Cypress Communications Launches Hosted VoIP Channel on TMCnet

Web Portal features articles and industry news on hosted VoIP and unified communications, managed telephony and Communications as a Service.

Atlanta – June 26, 2008 – Cypress Communications today announced its launch of the Hosted VoIP channel on TMCnet (<http://www.tmcnet.com/channels/hosted-voip/>).

The Hosted VoIP channel features hosted VoIP, managed telephony and unified communications solutions, including Communications as a Service from Cypress Communications. Visitors can find valuable resources such as white papers, product reviews, feature articles and other industry news. In addition, Cypress Communications is featuring its Get Your VoIP On™ promotion on the Hosted VoIP channel. The national promotion will award one U.S. business with the grand prize of 2 years of free hosted VoIP and unified communications, a retail value of $100,000.

The grand prize of 2 years of free hosted VoIP and unified communications service includes PBX functionality; IP phones (including firmware, PoE, management and maintenance); PC-based phone software; collaboration tools; voicemail and unified messaging; file sharing, instant messaging, audio and Web conferencing; desktop video; remote office and mobility functionality; real-time presence; Microsoft Outlook integration and click-to-call capabilities. The winner will also receive dedicated circuits, router(s) (including router management and maintenance); VLAN management; private IP network access; managed voice and data quality (QoS) supported by service level guarantees; Internet bandwidth; and a dedicated local and national team for installation, training and support. The grand prize has a total retail value of $100,000. Complete Get Your VoIP On™ contest details are available online at www.cypresscom.net/freevoip.

Cypress Communications markets Communications as a Service as C4 IP™, so named for its ability to help mid-sized enterprises connect, communicate, collaborate and continue™. C4 IP is an enterprise-class, hosted VoIP and unified communications solution that enables companies to communicate seamlessly throughout the enterprise. Complete with voice and data services, soft phones, handsets, multimedia collaboration tools, unified messaging, remote office and advanced PBX functionality, C4 IP delivers a comprehensive communications solution.
